MAIN ISSUES WORKED OUT BY MEDIATORS

Protocol Will Be Signed in Only Minor Matters Undiscussed

REFUSAL MUST BE CONSIDERED

Conference Will Make Mexican Situation Worse Than Now Without Carranza

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 27.—Position of the Mexican problem in relation had so far progressed at the end of today's conference that it was decided that a protocol would be signed within a week.

The main issues are understood to have been satisfactorily worked out in principle and it now only remains to determine whether certain points of comparatively minor importance shall be included in the scope of the negotiations. Issues of this nature are understood to have been the subject of the conference held today in Toronto between the mediators and the American delegates before attending the garden party given to the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the education colony. Enroute tonight from Toronto back to Niagara Falls the mediators communicated the views of Americans to the Mexican delegates in informal discussions aboard a special car.

The points yet to be taken up, it is understood, relate chiefly to internal problems, and it is known to be the position of the mediators if it is decided to seek an agreement upon them at all to treat them only in the form of recommendations for the guidance of the new provisional government which it is hoped to establish in Mexico.

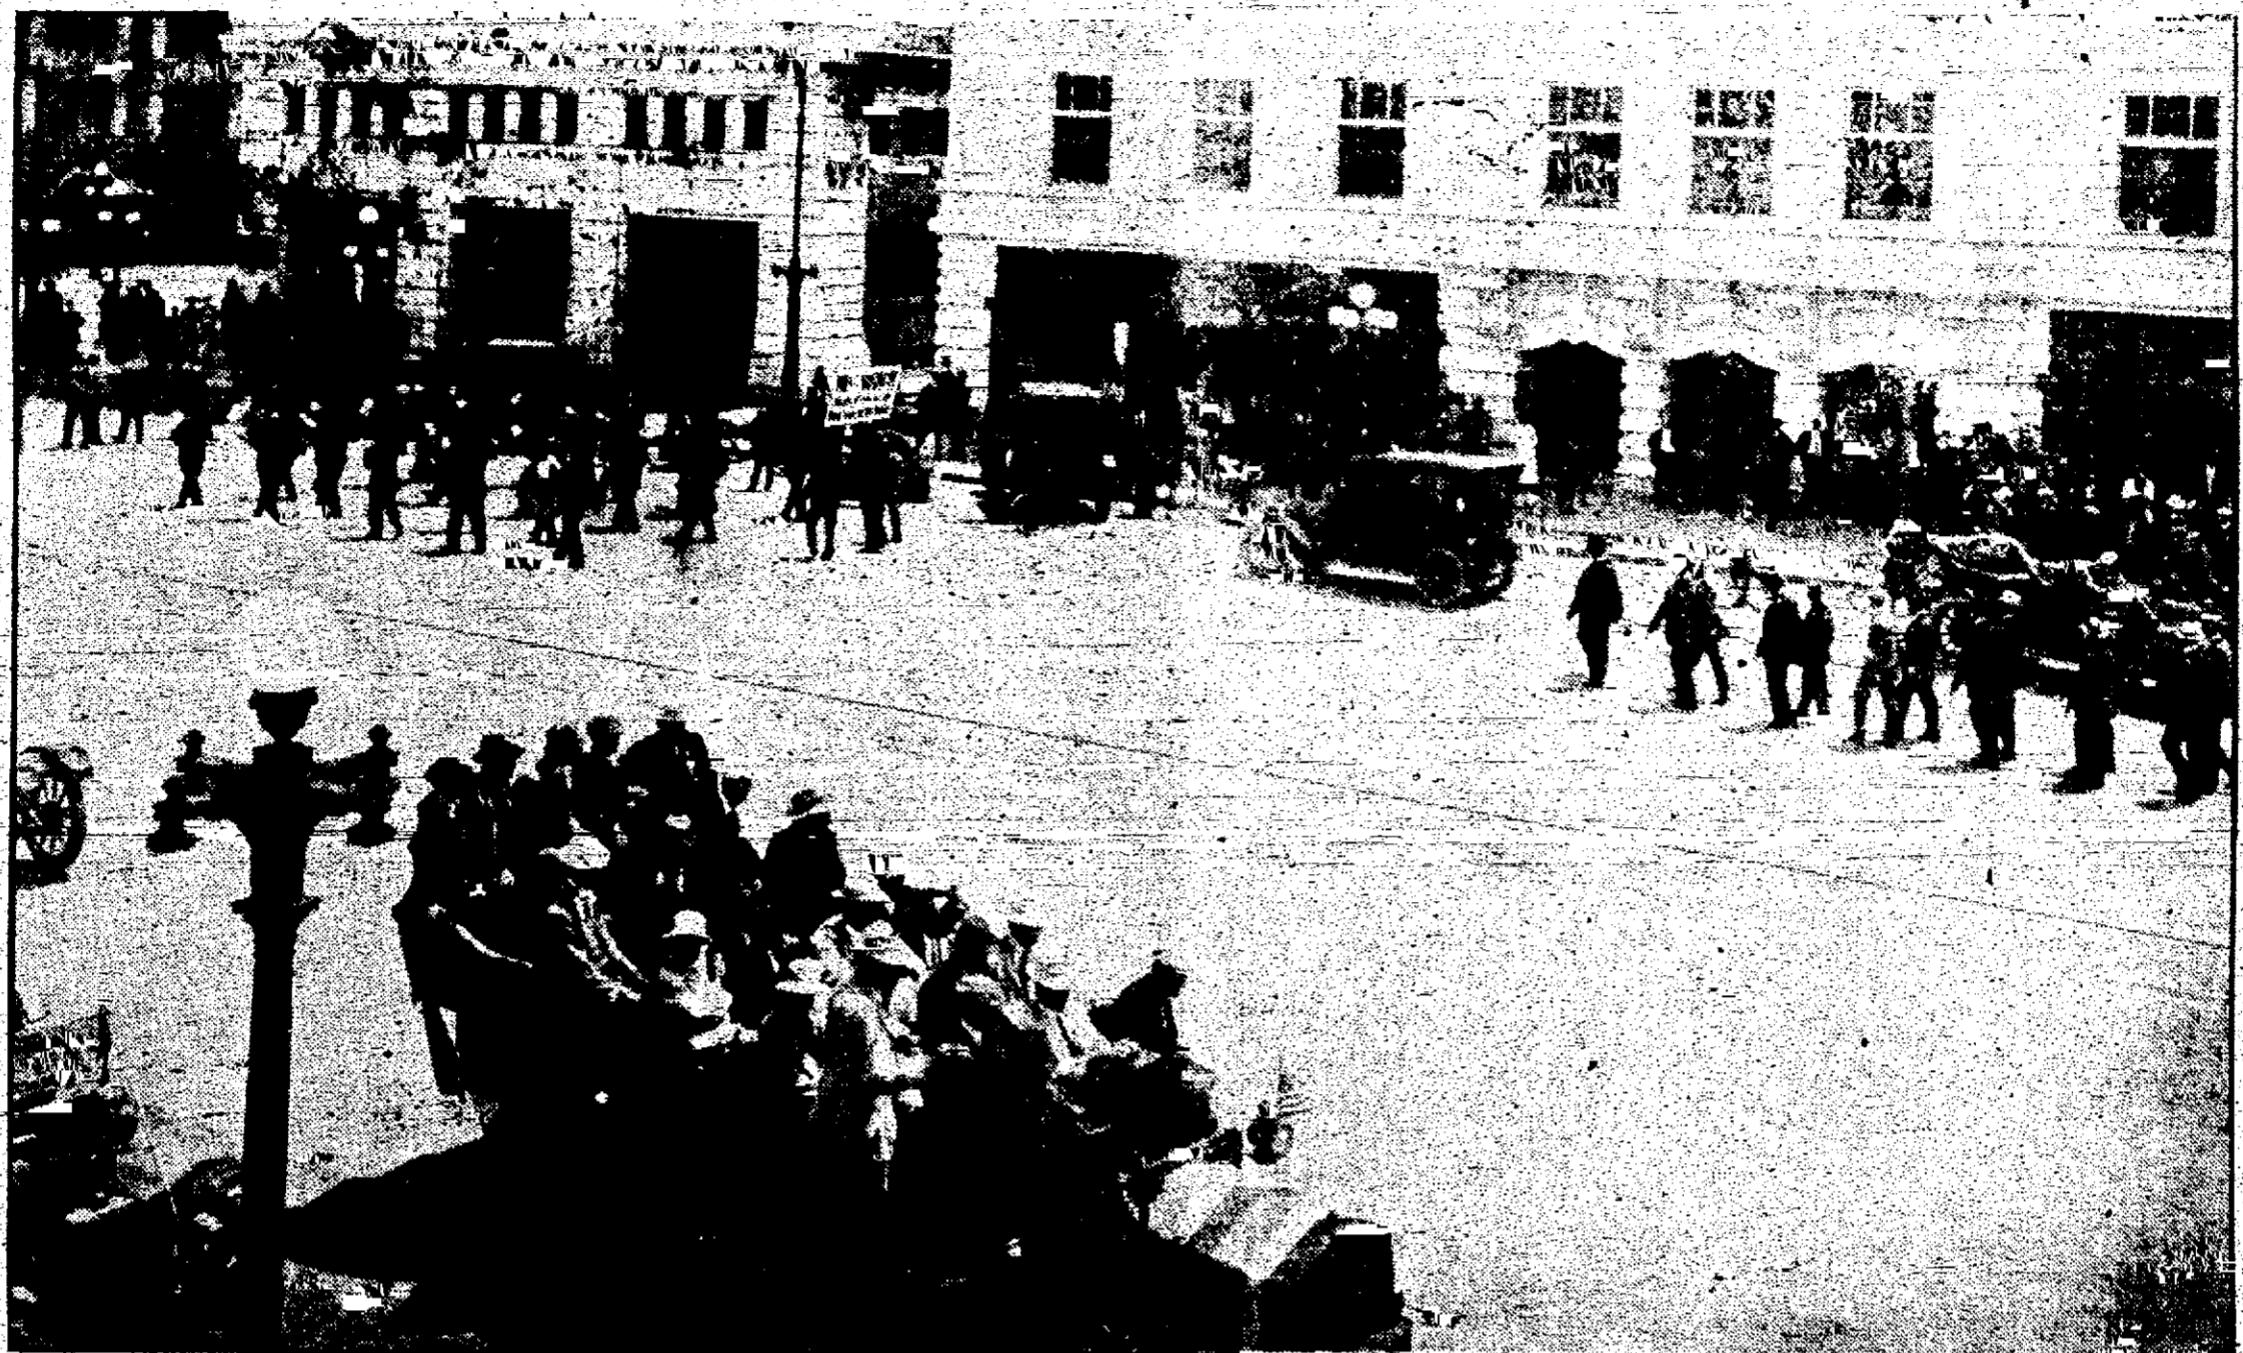

The attitude of the Mexican representatives is that these internal problems, while by no means unimportant, Mexico itself should not be entered into by this tribunal, inasmuch as the discussion of one would lead to another. Thus almost interminable discussions would result before a common understanding could be reached.

Won't Talk About Huerta.

In this connection the Mexican delegates brought up, as an illustration, the governorships of Mexican states and the problem of the relationship of the state governments to the provisional national government when it shall be established. They pointed out that to attempt to formulate a plan dealing with provisional control of state governments or in any way defining their relations with the federal organization would involve the mediators in the point of jurisdiction in the solution of local problems peculiar to each state. The Mexican envoys held that these problems can be best worked out by their own people after the temporary national government has been established.

As to precisely what disposal has been made of the question of the elevation of General Huerta, other than the intimation that his dignity will be upheld, the mediators today remained silent. Emphasis was laid on the fact that although the Carranza element has not been represented at the conference, the plan formulated by the mediators comprehended the expectation of bringing Carranza in accordance with the support of the scheme of a

Three hundred men, headed by Mayor McKesson and Frank Cotten, president of the Chamber of Commerce, furnished the motive power and hauled a big sight-seeing auto, carrying the sociability tour party through the business section yesterday noon. Thousands lined the streets to welcome the returning visitors. Hundreds of cameras caught the parade all along the line of march and movie men filmed the scene from the time the travelers arrived until they broke ranks at the Chamber of Commerce. FAIRWELL TO SPEND SUMMER HERE

Jack London, Rex Beach, Paul Armstrong and Edward Jarrett Coming

Jack London, Rex Beach, Paul Armstrong and Edward Jarrett, four of the most prominent men in the literary world today, will be summer visitors in Colorado Springs as guests of Romaine Fielding, manager and actor for the Lubin Motion Picture company. The quartet of writers will be guests of Fielding at Glen Eyrie, the castellated home of the late General Palmer, which has been leased by Fielding for his own residence. London, Beach and Armstrong are now in Mexico covering war news for the magazines. They will come here for a vacation and incidentally to pick up material for new stories. London and Beach are well known for their stories of the north as well as other forms of fiction. London's works have netted him more than $2,000,000. Armstrong is best known for his dramatic

SOCIABILITY MEN WHO BLAZED THEIR WAY THROUGH FLOODS GIVEN ROUSING RECEPTION UPON ARRIVAL HOME

A broad expanse of smiles bedded in by a band, policemen in uniform, automobiles, whistles and shouts was the welcome which greeted the 20 local advertising pilgrims when they rolled into the Santa Fe station at noon yesterday for the last stop of the sociability run to the gulf. Colorado Springs showed her returning jaunters a welcome worthy of their service and practically every business man of the city participated.

The travel-seasoned tourists, some dressed in linen dusters and wearing coat of Texan, were immediately hoisted into a big Crystal park automobile and Mayor McKesson then mounted the steps and welcomed the returned ones in complimentary words.

Following the address of the mayor, the crowd lined up along the great rope which had been attached to the big auto and headed by the band, the procession marched up the street. Mayor McKesson and President Frank Cotten of the Chamber of Commerce led the men on the rope.

The line of march took in the business section of the town and the band played tunes the while. The procession finally drew up before the Chamber of Commerce headquarters in the Burns building and there the tourists lined up before the Lubin movie men who had also joined the party and the crowds at the station. It was the first time the travelers had set foot on the home streets for three weeks and from the morning they left that very spot in the month they had had many and varied experiences.

"We all stood the trip well," said one of the party. "None of the party was sick—no, not even sea sick. We saw about as much water as we did land, but we enjoyed every minute of the trip. We were treated royally everywhere and everyone seemed anxious to make our trip pleasant."

Secretary A. W. Henderson of the Chamber of Commerce was beaming all over at the sight of the home soil and office, but he took time to talk a little concerning the trip.

"We secured worlds of publicity for this region," he said. "Practically every newspaper in Texas ran a cut support promised by this government does not imply any obligation to interfere by force or by the menace of force in the financial or political affairs of other countries."

Restriction to Many.

That American business men should not be subject in foreign trade to restrictions imposed upon them in domestic trade and which are not imposed on their competitors was the keynote of discussions of papers read by numerous industrial leaders. Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce told the manufacturers that he knew of no one who had tried to restrict or hamper export trade, and declared American industries did not use available scientific knowledge. He promised to employ his aid to remove any barriers that may stand in the way of our foreign trade, whether they be at home or abroad.

Discussing foreign trade and loans Willard Straight, president of the American Asiatic Association, outlined his opinion of the motive that prompted the Wilson administration to withdraw government support from the six-power Chinese administration. He said: "It is an American citizen in his legitimate business relations with a foreign government, diplomatic officials would be instructed to employ their good offices to secure it, but that the

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE FELT IN CANAL ZONE

COLORADO, May 27.—A severe earthquake shock lasting more than 30 seconds, occurred tonight. It was much stronger than any of the seismic disturbances felt in the Canal Zone last October.

No damage was done locally, so far as reported. The officials at Gatun described the shock as very strong, and that the men thus threatened agreed to and did leave the district, going to Gavilan, N. M.

of the way of the Colorado-to-the-Gulf highway, with its terminus in Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region. Furthermore, the Associated Press and also the United Press carried many columns of matter concerning the tour and these articles, of course, went all over the United States.

The sociability run as an advertising medium is by no means at an end.

We are back from Gavilan, but there will be many stories still to be written on the long tour. My secretary has just informed me that there are a huge pile of letters on my desk which contain requests from numerous automobile manufacturers and journals for accounts and illustrations of the sociability run. I shall work this material up at once and when it is printed there will be a special section of the state in the union that shall not have heard of Colorado and the Pikes Peak region.

The address of welcome delivered at the train yesterday morning by the mayor follows:

The Mayor's Address.

Welcome home, Sociability Boosters! (Please note that I spell the last word with a "b" instead of "v.")

We greet you as benefactors and heroes. Benefactors because you have advertised our "peerless city" throughout the empires of New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Heroes because you have won victory by couragously passing through storms, beasting goods, plowing through mud, scaling rapids, and have successfully withstood the encroaching influences of lavish hospitality. Heroes, because you had the temerity to leave our city in autos, and the courage to return on the railroad. You have thus demonstrated that these two apparently means of reaching the city from our neighboring states, are not gone and come nations, those who would not come to us from the east, and might have thought the east was the only means they could use to get here. Now they know differently.

You have been so busy in your traveling and being entertained, that you have perhaps not learned the fact that your fame as explorers and discoverers exceeds that of the great Roosevelt. He spent many months in discovering a river that had existed since the Almighty separated the dry land from the sea, while you, in a few short weeks, discovered a multitude of streams that had existed prior to your arrival into Texas, and returned minus 55 pounds in weight, when you return fat, bronzed and handsome. It deserves a place high in the temple of fame, for his discovery you ought to soar up among the rafters of the temple of your discoveries.

Expression of Gratitude.

In welcoming you home, we remember gratefully those who have shown you kindness and hospitality on your trip. The world has a right to thank the people of the great Lone Star State extended to you a greeting such as can be given only by those who have won the admiration of the world by their generous hospitality, and that the citizens of New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas gave you a most cordial reception. I wish on behalf of our city.

TIFF MINERS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Arrests Result of Battle at Forbes in Which Nine Were Killed

TRINIDAD, May 27.—Two strikers are in jail and one under $5,000 bond charged with murder growing out of the battle at Forbes on April 29, at which time nine persons were killed and the camp seized by fire. Victor Bonomi, a local bartender arrested last week, appeared before Justice of the Peace today and was granted a continuance of hearing. W. J. Kathodavas and Charles Bell, arrested at Colorado Springs, will be arraigned tomorrow.

Local officials of the United Mine Workers tonight declared they had concluded an investigation of the alleged shooting upon United States troops at Segundo Monday night and were convinced that the shots were not fired by strikers. Colonel Lockett reported that the day's investigation by Captain Cushman had failed to throw any light upon the incident.

Additional complaints against the alleged activity of union pickets at the railroad station were presented today by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. It was charged that eight coal miners who have been working at Bopie were prevented from boarding an interurban car for that camp and that the men thus threatened agreed to and did leave the district, going to Gavilan, N. M.

Huerta Consignment at Puerto Mexico

NO EFFECT TO PREVENT ACT

Ypiranga Caught Seizure of Vera Cruz Company Reverses Landing Rule

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Ypiranga, the cargo ship, to the United States, in accordance with the order kept in the hold of the steamer steamship Ypiranga since the American Consul, Alfredo C. Clegg, of the American Consul, Alfredo Clegg, at Vera Cruz, called the Consul to the port to receive payment and it was reported from which information he was informed that the American Consul at Vera Cruz had been landed at Puerto Mexico from the German steamer Bavaria. Both steamers belong to the Hamburg-American Line.

No effort to prevent the delivery of the ammunition consignment was made by the Consul for the United States. Puerto Mexico being an open port, and the United States having agreed to a suspension of hostilities during the mediation of the Mexican insurrection at Niagara Falls.

It was plain at the state department that the only possible way for the United States to have prevented the shipment of arms through Puerto Mexico would have been to seize the custom house as was done at Vera Cruz when the Ypiranga was about to land her cargo at that port. This would have been an open violation of the suspension of hostilities, and would have disrupted mediation.

The reported delivery of these cargoes aroused considerable speculation in view of the fact that arms on board the Hamburg-American ship Kronprinzessin Cecile, consigned to Huerta through Puerto Mexico several weeks ago, were turned back on orders of officials of the steamship company at Havana. At that time the Bavaria was reported to be en route with her cargo, and the announcement was made from the same source that the ammunition would not be landed upon orders of the steamship company.

Company Reverses Order. Why a different disposition of the cargoes at this time was made, government officials here did not appear to understand, but the suggestion was made that the arms on the Kronprinzessin Cecile originated from an American source and that delivery was prevented by order of the American ship company officials.

Robert Lansing, counselor of the state department, made public the report concerning the delivery of the ammunition to Huerta. Secretary Bryan being absent at the time the information reached Washington. When Mr. Bryan returned to the department he was at once informed of the message.

"What," he said, avowing some surprise, "already landed the arms."

He declined to make further comment at this time.

Mediation developments at Niagara Falls were reported to President Wilson early in the day and assurances were reiterated that no serious obstacles had yet been encountered.

AGREEMENT SIGNED FOR TRACT ON PEAK

City Makes Final Plans for Protecting Water System After Years' Work

An agreement providing that the government restore the tract of land Pikes Peak called the city of Colorado Springs and the town of Manitou, as protection for their mountain water systems, and that the cities fence and guard the same, was approved by the city council yesterday morning and signed by Mayor McKesson and Clerk Chapman. The land is located on the north slope of the Peak and will provide a pasture for the system as well as protecting the streams and ravines now included. A former agreement concluded by the government proposed that the city bear the expense of the reforesting which would cost $1,000. The question of the Pikes Peak land grant has been before the city for the last six years. Former Mayor Avery made several trips to

GERMAN SHIP BAVARIA HELD AT VERA CRUZ AFTER LANDING ARMS AT PUERTO MEXICO

General Funston Orders Steamer Held Upon Arrival Without Manifest, Liable to Fine

VERA CRUZ, May 27.—The German steamer Bavaria has been held here for her arrival without manifest at Brigadier General Funston's order. The Bavaria recently landed a large quantity of ammunition on Mexican soil.

It is estimated that the Bavaria put ashore 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition. The cargo was destined for Vera Cruz, but was diverted to Puerto Mexico. The steamer reached here Sunday. The captain could not produce a manifest, declaring that it had been taken away from him by the American authorities.

Later he admitted landing the cargo, which included also 3,000 rolls of barbed wire.

General Funston understands that the ammunition and wire reached Cordova yesterday by way of the Tiaxila Canal.

The captain of the Bavaria is liable to a fine under the Mexican laws, which are being administered by the collector of the port, Capt. Herman C. Stickney. The shipment of arms continued for Vera Cruz, but landed at Puerto Mexico, forms a violation of the laws, and the absence of a manifest a second violation.

Brigadier General Funston said the captain of the Bavaria was entirely in Captain Stickney's hands, but the collector Hold Only for Fines.

The Bavaria is held here only because clearance will be refused until the master or owner is justified.

Customs officials assert that so far as they know the arms shipment on the Ypiranga of the same line, which precipitated the seizure of Vera Cruz by the American forces, was still aboard when that vessel left here for Puerto Mexico two days ago. They assume that there is no possibility that the 250 machine guns, 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition and other war material aboard the Ypiranga would be landed, as the liner is under charter of the German government at the present time and was ordered to Puerto Mexico by the German minister to pick up German refugees.

Rumors have been current that some of the war materials for which Huerta had contracted in Germany had been shipped through the way of Puerto Mexico. Virtually every German liner touching at the gulf ports has carried arms or ammunition shipped under contract. The Bavaria incident is the first one where positive info-

ANCON CITY, May 27.—Twenty-six are charged with murder and 18 with malice in the report of the Fremont county grand jury which today returned 15 true bills against 103 defendants on charges growing out of the fight at the coalmine on April 20 in which William King was killed.

Twelve of those charged with malice are under arrest, including Charles Bailey, district organizer of the United Mine Workers of America; Thomas Easton, president of the Rockdale local union; Felix Pogliano and Thomas Scott, union officials.

THURSDAY, MAY 28, 1914.

AN IMMIGRATION AGENT FREE

OUR Chamber of Commerce has received an offer from the Immigration Department of the Rock Island railroad that is exceedingly generous, if the details as they come to The Gazette are correctly stated. The company proposes locating one of its expert agents of the department in this city during the summer tourist season to work under the direction of the territorial committee of the chamber. He will devote his time at attracting the attention of the visitors to Eastern Colorado lands and especially to El Paso county investments.

The Rock Island road will pay the agent's salary, supply the chamber with literature and do all else needful. The agent will be at the service of the committee in calling upon strangers who come here, showing them the lands, etc. No doubt this work will develop itself as time goes on.

A large proportion of the visitors who come to the Pikes Peak region are bent on pleasure, but many of them are people of means who would make an investment in Colorado if shown a fair chance. The railroad company is anxious to have settlers on the lands adjacent to its tracks, because in that way only can it ever hope for a great and permanent success. Population makes traffic.

There is a much larger amount of vacant grazing and agricultural land in El Paso county than many people realize, most of it to the south and southeast of this city. It is estimated that the state owns 200,000 acres of vacant land in the county, and there still remains some government land, as we mentioned the other day. It is much better that this land be owned by individuals so that it may be put to use and bring a revenue to the county and state. Regret it as one may, and it is only the old timer looking into the past who does, the fact remains that the day of the open range is gone. It will never return, and it is better that the land be taken up in tracts of sufficient size so that settlers may develop it profitably.

The arrangements for the special agent who is to get into personal touch with the visitors was made by Alvin T. Stenell, head of the Rock Island immigration work, in the city on Tuesday. John Lennox, chairman of the agricultural committee, will present the proposal to the Chamber of Commerce. It would seem that there is everything to gain and nothing to lose by accepting it. The railroad has hundreds of thousands of names of possible investors and settlers to begin the work with.

A LIFE WITH A LESSON

JACOB A. RIS, died in the harness, as the homely phrase has it. In spite of ill-health, this soldier of the common good battled until no longer able to fight, and his death gives one more opportunity to point out the greatness of his career. One hears a great deal about the new religion of service, in which men take up the ancient problem and try to affirm that they are their brother's keepers. Jacob Ris actually lived it more affirmatively than almost any man of his time, and won from Mr. Roosevelt the declaration that he was the "most useful citizen of the metropolis."

Those words were spoken a score of years ago, and since that time Ris has labored in broader fields, and spread the doctrine of his life work. The career of this man, who came to America from his native Denmark a poor youth, is instructive. He quickly assimilated the language and the life of this country. Working as a porter, he saw the terrible conditions of life among the poor, as hundreds of others had seen them and passed them by, but he determined to do his mite in alleviating them. His mite turned out to be a very great deal, including the spurring of the great city into procuring a healthful supply of water.

The career of this man surely contains many lessons for the native-born American boy or young man, because Ris, the young immigrant, had reached the age of 27 before he found his place in life as a writer.

It took him twenty years to gain for his work the recognition which enabled him to broaden it. No one who has labored in the cause of humanity in recent years will receive greater honors at the hands of press and public than this humble newspaper reporter.

Thirty odd years ago when Parnell and his followers began those obstructive tactics that finally secured Home rule for Ireland they were regarded by average Englishmen with the same kind of horror as are now Mrs. Pankhurst's following disturbers of the settled order of things. Press dispatches continue to recite the doings or misdoings of the wild women across the water. The critical stage is near in the suffrage movement, because Englishmen are getting mad, and that means that they are thinking. But why should they not get mad? Destroying priceless works of art, smashing windows and blowing up old churches are minor afflictions to be endured, but when it comes to booing is majestic at the theater, hits high time to call a罢工.

Now that the cry is coming from Kansas and Oklahoma for 15,000 or 20,000 men to harvest the immense wheat crops, would it not be a fine thing if the Murdock bill establishing a federal employment bureau had become a reality and the bureau could be working? The bureau would give information regarding working conditions to the jobless man, and keep the employers posted where the labor could be supplied. Many a gang of harshest has traveled long distances only to find that the jobs were taken or the reported chance to work a myth.

The anniversary number of the Billings (Mont.) Gazette has just reached this office. It is a huge paper alive with information regarding Wyoming and Montana, the great region to the north of Colorado. Montana is rapidly changing from a grazing state to a farming state, and still continues its marvelous mineral development. Billings is the metropolis of the lowlands of Montana, the Gazette its prophet, and written over the latter is the handwork of W. W. Gail, until last fall a Colorado Springs newspaper man. Typographically and pictorially the edition is most worthy.

The Gazette likes to feel that it is enterprising and progressive in gathering news. But it has to confess that it cannot compete with an opponent like the Denver News, which prints a column account of a reception to the returning automobile sociability runners a full day before it happens.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

[All letters intended for the Open Parliament must bear the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. Controversial letters will not be published without the signature of the writer. Communications for this department should be limited to 400 words and should be free from personalities. Religious controversy cannot be conducted in this column.]

BOYCOTTING MAGAZINES

To the Editor of The Gazette: The suppression of the sale of eastern magazines by Colorado newsdealers for alleged misrepresentation in connection with the coal miners' strike is the sole business of said newsdealers and their patrons. It is perfectly right that the good name of Col. radio, dragged in with those who are responsible thereto, should be defended and its defamers condemned.

But as to alleged false statements by these periodicals, it would be more satisfactory to the unbiased mind to be able to compare them with the report of the impartial congressional commission which investigated the matter a few months ago, as well as other more recent official investigations—state and national. This commission ought to settle the matter as to the guilt or innocence of the accused publishers, and as to whether the boycott is just or unjust. The federal report to my knowledge has not yet been published.

A PLEA FOR OPEN CARS

To the Editor of The Gazette: Now that the street car company is frankly discussing its problems with the public through the medium of the press, may I bring to the company's attention one matter that I often hear mentioned in conversation?

The company has unusually fine and expensive cars, but during about eight months in the year all the cars are closed, and closed tightly. To state it frankly, they are close and stuffy and filled with a fine, impalpable dust that the motion of the cars causes to remain in the air. A physician once told me to sit in the cars as much I wished in the summer when the cars are open, but never to ride in them in the winter for fear of infection. I have a friend here who came for his health who tells me that he rarely rides in the cars in the winter for fear of contracting some kind of "common cold" or influenza, and when he does ride in them he always stands in the rear vestibule.

I said that all the cars are closed. There is one known popularly as "highlife," one-half of which is open. A car is said to be unpopular because the steps are so high, and yet I have known people to wait for this car so as to be able to ride in the open. And I have ridden in "high life" scores of times during the winter, when the weather was severely cold, and have noted that almost invariably there were more people riding in the open part than inside.

In Denver the cars have an open part, and more people sit outside than inside. In a town like Colorado Springs, where people are fond of fresh air, there are very many who would ride outside all winter if they could do so. Why one has an overcoat is a real pleasure to sit out in the open for a 15 or 20-minute ride, and our physicians tell us that one is less likely to catch cold by doing so than by sitting in a close, crowded car where some of the passengers are sure to have colds. And then, at certain times of the day, the vestibule is crowded with men who stand there in order to smoke, and those who enter have to pass by these men in order to get into the car.

Of course, the present cars cannot be changed, and no one would ask the company to do so, but there are very many people in Colorado Springs who would be delighted if the company would adopt the policy of making all new cars with one-half open. Time and again I have entered the cars on a mild day in the early spring and have asked the conductor if I might open one window, but he has answered that someone would object.

Now let there be a closed part where those who are afraid of fresh air may be sealed up hermetically, if they wish, but do not compel those who are used to fresh air to remain in the close room. I wish the street car company would ask the opinion of our leading physicians, or would take a straw vote of the riding public. They would be surprised to find that the physicians are almost unanimous in the opinion that it is better for a majority of the passengers to ride out in the open, even in winter, and the passengers prefer to do so.

As a health measure, I urge our city commissioners to compel the street car company to have an open section in all new cars.

SIAM

BY GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Dead Old Siwash"

Siam is a patch of hot, moist ground a little smaller than Texas, which lies so far away that there is considerable dispute as to whether it is west or east of the United States.

Very little is known and hardly anything suspected concerning Siam in this country. Going over our regular stock of knowledge we find that Siam is related to China, is governed by a king named Chulalongkorn, and that its principal products are white elephants and twins. Referring to the encyclopedia we discover with sorrow that Chulalongkorn has died and that his son Choweng has taken his place, is running the country, creating consternation and despair among thousands of schoolboys who do not like geography any too well anyway.

Creating consternation among thousands of schoolboys.

The encyclopedia also ignores the celebrated Siamese twin and pays no attention to the blonde elephants. These corrections leave practically everyone on the ground floor, with plenty of building room as far as knowledge of Siam is concerned.

Siam began to edge into eastern history for the first time about 1,500 years ago. It was discovered by the Portuguese 350 years ago. Its real discoverer was P. T. Barnum, who opened the flood gates of interest throughout America concerning Siam by means of his celebrated menagerie and doubled the tourist business in two years.

Siam lies in the Indo-Chinese peninsula, about 6,000 miles west of San Francisco, and contains about 6,000,000 small brown inhabitants, who make their living by raising rice and opium and cutting lumber. They are strictly vegetarian in their building. Living in reed and bamboo huts. Bangkok the capital, is much cleaner streets than Chicago, but this is because most of them are composed of water. Water is the favorite road-making material in Siam, and the children of the country teach the ducklings how to swim. The automobile is not a great success in the outlying districts, where the tourists travel with a canoe, an ax and 10 pounds of quinine.

Siam has 500 miles of railway and some moving picture shows. It is a better educated country than Venezuela, but women are not taught to read, which accounts for the fact that there is no department store advertising in the country. The Siamese are very musical, using the Cubist system and repelling invaders with great courage by playing at them. We can learn much from Siam but how to do so without investing in steamer fare remains a puzzle to most of us.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer:

"I fancy," says the president, "it is just as hard to do your duty when men are sneering at you as when they are shooting." Much harder, we should say, but why give occasion for the sneers?

From the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph:

The waiting at Vera Cruz continues good. Also the watching.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer:

A "war of service" with Carranza and Villa as the objective heads of Mexico smacks of much war and little service.

From the St. Louis Times:

Let us hope that then A. B. C. diplomats may prove to be men who know their p's and q's.

From the Pittsburgh Gazette:

Wonder how much Huerta would give if he were safe and snug at Niagara Falls, with a flexible expense account!

From the Baltimore American:

The mediators should also obtain the views of presidential aspirants among the bandits.

From the Columbia (S.C.) State:

There is some apprehension that the eight mediators will soon be at arms and sevens.

From the Albany Evening Journal:

Presumably, the mediators have already decided that Niagara is some considerable waterfall.

From the Duluth News-Tribune:

Meditation is evidently bent on fighting it out on this line if it takes all eternity.

From the Concord Monitor:

Let us hope that peace Ark will not belie its name.

From the Shreveport, La., Times:

Mexico, we Judge, gets along without a vice president by combining all the vice in the president.

From the Atlanta Journal:

"Meanwhile, President Will intends that the American troops shall remain in Mexico as an added encouragement to mediation."

From the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch:

The mediators will learn all about it if they can wait for the graduation.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat:

If Huerta's mediators do not succeed in this, there is no compulsion for them to go back home.

From the Birmingham Ledger:

If we just help Villa to get to Mexico City he will attend to the elimination of Huerta.

The Mexican Situation

AMERICANS IN LATIN AMERICA

From the Chicago Tribune:

One of the greatest difficulties the pacific policy of the administration has had to contend with has been its inability to reach what exists of public opinion in Mexico. The Mexican press has been throughout without the slightest sense of responsibility to truth, and has purveyed to the Mexicans the most outrageous calumnies against us and the most ludicrous allegations. The newspaper "International" is a leading journal in Mexico City, yet Richard Harding

Davis reports that it has just published the statement that of the American soldiers in Vera Cruz half are dead and the other half overcome by the heat.

This is only one of innumerable instances which show what we have to deal with and what Americans in Mexico will have to continue to meet for many years, unless we go in to occupy the country in force.

Add to this prior campaign the accumulated effects of the facts known to Mexicans as to the unpunished outrages upon Americans and we must realize that a very serious condition has been created.

The case of the soldier Parka, who it seems, was done to death by regular Mexican soldiers, is important not only in itself, but, if left unpunished, for its effect upon Mexican opinion.

However pacific we may be, however disinterested, we cannot afford to neglect this aspect of our relations with the Mexican people. It is to be hoped it will be insisted upon with the greatest emphasis at Niagara or in any negotiations which may develop

Presbyterians Oppose

Clergy's Use of Tobacco

KANSAS CITY, May 27.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (Southern Presbyterian church) went on record today as being opposed to the use of tobacco among clergymen, candidates for the ministry and church officials.

Replying to the attacks made on Andrew Carnegie from the floor of the assembly earlier in the week, Rev. J. S. Foyen of Louisville, Ky., the retiring moderator, rising to a question of personal privilege, said:

"I hold no brief for Mr. Carnegie. I never have met him and do not expect to meet him in this world. I hope to meet him in a better one. I deem it appropriate and in harmony with the sense of justice of the assembly that an explanation be made of its unwillingness to appear to pass judgment upon Mr. Carnegie or upon any other person without evidence."

Sallow complexion is due to a torpid liver. HERBINE purifies and strengthens the liver and bowels and restores the rosy bloom of health to the cheek. Price 50c. Sold by all druggists. Adv.

SPARING WITH WALES

Colonel Roosevelt was constantly sparring with Mr. Wales, who conducted his own case, when under cross-examination. Mr. Wales frequently angered him and he bent forward shaking his finger at the lawyer and scowling at him. He said he had never seen

Mr. Wales before and knew nothing of any part which the plaintiff took in settling the strike.

Mr. Wales tried to make Colonel

Roosevelt admit he was willing to violate the laws, defy the courts and disregard the constitution to settle the strike.

"I wouldn't accept your interpretation of the constitution," Colonel Roosevelt reported. "I proposed that every action I took should be in accordance with the constitution as Abraham Lincoln construed it."

"Would you have settled the strike law or no law?" persisted the plaintiff.

"I'd have settled it," Colonel Roosevelt said. "I'd have found a law."

People Won't Pay Taxes

Albania's Only Trouble

ROME, May 27.—One of the chief reasons for the trouble in Albania is the unwillingness of the inhabitants of that country to pay taxes, according to the Marquis Di San Giuliano, Italian foreign minister. In answering questions in the chamber of deputies today,

The marquis said that Italy and Austria would do everything in their power to prevent armed intervention in Albania, and they were desirous of withdrawing the demands landed from the warships at Durazzo. If it became necessary, however, they were in favor of intervention by all the powers.

QUIMET AND TOPPING, AMERICANS TO MEET
TODAY FOR FRENCH AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIPTopping Defeats Frayer's While Quimet Wins
From Appley and Ford Hope Easily

VERSAILLES, France, May 27.—Francis Quimet, the American open champion, and Henry J. Topping, Greenwich Country Club, Connecticut, will meet in the final round tomorrow for the French amateur golf championship. Each of the American players showed excellent form today; Quimet defeating Appley, the Australian player, in the semifinal round by 4 up and 3 to play, and Topping eliminated the American amateur champion, Jerome D. Traverse. In the previous round Quimet disposed of Lord Charles Hope, the holder of the title, by 1 up.

The Englishman was unlucky with some of his putts against Quimet, but played most of them with a view to laying the American stymie if the ball did not find the hole. This occurred on the first hole and the American champion knocked Hope's ball into the cup.

Traverse was a trifle weak in his play against his American opponent. Topping's approach was perfect and he led nearly all the way.

DAREDEVIL DRIVERS
BURNING UP TRACK

"HARD LUCK" DePalma Finally Qualifies; All Records Are Broken

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27.—After three days of the fastest automobile racing ever seen on the Indianapolis motor speedway the 30 drivers who will start in the annual 500-mile race here next Saturday were selected tonight. Georges Boillot, the French driver who yesterday set a new United States record on the 2½ mile track, circling it in 1:30.13, led the list of successful drivers. Boillot drove his car around the course at a rate of a fraction less than 100 miles an hour. Jules Goux, teammate of Boillot, was second, having sent his French car around the track in 1:31.1, and Tedd Tetzlaff, in an American car, was third.

DePalma Qualifies.

Ralph De Palma, known as the "hard luck driver," and who had been unable to get the required speed out of his machine qualified on his third and last trial lap. He was twentieth in the list and required 1:42.12 to go the 1½ miles.

Boillot, who today traced at a speed faster than ever before seen in this country, is the winner of three grand prix races in France. Goux won the race here last year and this team is favored in the betting as winner of this year's contest.

Fifteen of the drivers who had entered cars in the race either withdrew or failed in the elimination runs. Bob Burman qualified with two cars. He is permitted to select another driver for one of the machines.

The successful drivers and the order in which they finished are: Boillot, 1:30.13; Goux, 1:31.1; Tetzlaff, 1:33.40; Thomas, 1:35.20; Dawson, 1:36.20; Carlson, 1:36.10; Brage, 1:36.50; Wishart, 1:37.10; Christensen, 1:38.61; Wilcox, 1:39.14; Anderson, 1:39.45; Burman, 1:39.55; Duray, 1:40.45; Knipper, 1:40.48; Haupt, 1:40.58; Guyot, 1:40.85; Chassagne, 1:41.81; Mulford, 1:42.03; Bichanbacher, 1:42.11; De Palma, 1:42.42; Cooper, 1:42.55; Brock, 1:42.47; Freidrich, 1:42.58; Chandler, 1:42.81; Oldfield, 1:43.15; Mason, 1:42.22; Keene, 1:43.60; Klein, 1:43.60; Burman, 1:43.70; Grant, 1:44.09.

NEW YORK MARKET

CHICAGO MARKET

NEW YORK, May 27.—Mexico was once more a factor of importance in the stock market today. Official advices were quite generally accepted as tending in the direction of a settlement of the unhappy situation.

The local list followed London's lead, that market having a majority of substantial gains for our securities.

Gold Pacific showed an initial rise of 2 points, which soon extended to over 2, while the Harringtons, Belding,

U. S. Steel and Armaghian Copper were more than ordinarily active at that point of the day.

Speculators were again well to the front, General Motors adding more than seven points to its recent sensational rise on reports of a resumption of dividends, while Studebaker issues moved up moderately in sympathy.

Time loans and commercial paper were a trifle easier and the course of foreign exchange demand a temporary cessation of gold exports.

Bonds were irregular. Merchantile

Marine 4% became weak, while some other issues recently under pressure advanced.

Total index $2,600,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call.
